PARING DOWN ESTIMATES.

SHALL THE MUSEUMS BE OPEN ON SUNDAY? INEFFICIENT CLERKS USED BY THE ALDERMEN-

SQUIRE'S SCHEMES THROWN OUT. The Board of Estimate yesterday finished its pre-liminary examination of the estimates of the de-partments for 1886. M. K. Jesup, president of the Museum of Natural History: Oliver Harriman, D. O. Mills, Jackson Stnart, and Heber R. Bishop, his associates, asked to be heard on the question of withholding $15,000 each from the Museum of Natural History and the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Mayor Grace—It is deemed imporiant by many that the museums should be opened on Sundays.

Mr. Jestip asked if that was the only objection, and the Mayor said that it was the only one raised.

Mr. Jestip asked if that was the only one raised in the unuseum of Satural History are not unmindful of the fact that the Fark Board and Aldermen last spring passed resolutions requesting the trustees to open the museums on Sundays. The matter has been tefore us for a long time, and we have discussed it. The trustees are in favor of doing what is for the best, but there is a solemn contract between the Museum of Natural History and the city, and that prohibits the opening of the museum on Sundays. It was in consideration of this contract that the city and State gave the building. The annual subscriptions and gifts are made on the basks of that contract, and it would be a violation of the trust to disregard it. Where does the demand to open the museums on Sunday come from? So far as we know it only comes from seventy-two persons. That is all who have petitioned us, and of this number only two are subscribers. The Museum of Natural Art was put there for the elevation of the people. I do not believe that a single trustee would allow his own convictions or predilections to stand in the way of jubile good. It is unfair to put us, at two days notice, in a position of refusing to open our doors on Sunday on pain of having the appropriation of $15,000 for each disallowed. The trustees have endeavored in every way to bring the museum before the people. We have received about $150,000 in cash, and less than half of this came from the city.

The Mayor said the action of the Board was not final. It would not make the final declaration until December 30. Mr. Jesup read from the Consolidation act to show that the appropriation must be made. Park Commissioner Beekman doubted the prohibitory clause in the contract. He thought that the Sunday opening was optional with the trustees. He knew Mr. Jesup as a good triend of the workingmen. He thought the museums could be opened with the same freedom as the parks on sundays. Daniel Huntington, second vice-president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and Salem H. Wales also opposed opening the museums on Sunday.

H. Wales also opposed opening the integrals on Sunday.

In the estimates for the Fire Department, $1.254,177 10 was asked for salaries. This was reduced to $1,200,000. President Purroy asked for $10,000 additional and this sum was allowed. One of the Commissioners of Accounts asked for $30,000 for that bureau. This includes two commissioners at $5,000 each. The Board allowed the Commissioners their large salaries fixed by law, and cut down the clerical appropriation to $15,000.

Captain Francis J. Twoney, Clerk of the Common Council, explained the estimates fixed by the stalesmen in the City Hall for the needs of the Aldermen. It footed up $84,750. Of this amount $51,000 was for salaries fixed by law. For other salaries $20,000 was asked. ras asked. President Coleman thought that the salary list was asked.

President Coleman thought that the salary list was larger. When Captain I womey was asked the need for so large a salary list, he replied that with six or eight good clerks he could do better work than with the majority of the incapable ones who are appointed. The Mayor assured Captain Twomey that there would be only a skilled clerical force under his control next year. The Board fixed the amount allowed at $50,250.

The Board then took up the deferred items of the Department of Public Works. It allowed the item of $294,000 for iepawing Fifth ave.; $4,000 for contingencies; $100,000 for supplies and cleaning public offices and $25,000 for supplies and cleaning public offices and $25,000 for supplies and cleaning public offices and $25,000 for supplies and eleming public offices and $25,000 for supplies and them were all thrown out. These were as follows: Building Gansevoort Market, $468,000; Clinton Market, $150,000; new Hall of Records, $250,000; Special appliances to suppress waste of water, $100,000. Mr. Squire asked for $4,498,006, and he was allowed $2,725,090. Register Reilly asked for $62,135 for copying and rebinding the old libers in his office. He was allowed $40,500.

Sheriff A. V. Davidson, desired $77,800 and received $103,000. District-Attorney Martine asked for and received $107,000. Controller Loew said that for new improvements the Park Department and D partment of Public Works had asked for $2,741,000. The amounts now owed are about $1,000,000, and of this $1,000,000 is owed the Park Department, He had been called on by many persons to urge this on the Board. He submitted it for their consideration. The Mayor thought that $250,000 could be allowed for each Department provisionally, and his plan was accepted. The Controller said that he "had been run to death" by interested persons.

secretary, presented to Recorder Smyth yesterday in the Court of General Sessions a presentment in which they say:

The Grand Jury of the City and County of New-York, after giving careful attention to the present facilities of the Court of General Sessions for the trial of persons charged with crine, present to the court that the present court-room accommodations are totally and inexcusably inadequate for the disposal of the large amount of business now awaiting its attention and which is contently increasing in volume. The proper administrative increasing in volume. of business now awaiting its attention and which is constantly increasing in volume. The proper administration of lustice in this regard requires that bail cases should be tried as well as prison cases. The jury find that under the existing conditions the court has more than it can do properly to dispose of the prison cases alone. Such a state of affairs obviously makes a failure of justice and a detriment to the peace of this community, and can be remedied by simply providing additional court-room accommodation for the HIId Part of this court. The fact that this subject has been presented by several Grand Juries without having secured from the proper authorities court-room accommodations for this part of the court indicates to this jury a lax sense of duty on the part of those who ought to provide it, and we desire again directly to call to the attention of the authorities this pressing need of the court and to emphasize our opinion that it should be met immediately.

Recorder Smyth before discharging the Grand

that it should be met immediately.

Recorder Smyth before discharging the Grand Jury for the term thanked them for their services and in particular for their presentment. He said that the matter had been before the Sinking Fund Commissioners, and the Controller had been requested to find a place for the Receiver of Taxes, so that his office might be moved to accommodate Part III. The time for the Controller to act had not yet expired. The Receiver of Taxes could not conveniently move at present, as the bulk of the taxes is paid at this season of the year. The Recorder said that he had no doubt that the Controller would report soon and the room could be obtained. He concurred in the view of the juriors as to the necessity for the enlargement of the court.

AN ELECTRIC LIGHT WIRE'S CRUEL WORK.

The electric light wires caused considerable dumage in Brooklyn in the storm of Thursday night, and seriously minited a young man who carelessly touched one of them. There is an electric lamp in front of Nos. 43 and 45 Fulion-st., and the insulating material on the wire leading to it had been worn thin by chaling against the awning. The wind and rain wore it entirely through, and the electric current set the awning on fire. Michael Chifford, a bootbiack, age twenty-three, of No. 5 Hicks-st., climbed up a pole to put out the flame. He was warned by spectators to be careful about the wire, and answered "All right," but immediately seized the wire with one hand and the awning with the other. The severe shock that he felt upon it and against the connec of the building, the wire resting under his arm. The electricity caused blood to gush from his mouth and nostrils, and he lay there in great suffering until he was rescued by being pulled through a window. Those who seized him received severe shocks. Clifford was taken to the Long Island College Hospital, and the fire was speedily put out.

UNABLE TO LIVE ON HIS SALARY.

Karl B. Kegeler, who has been employed by I. B. Newcombe & Co., brokers at No. 6 Broad-st., was arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday on a charge of embezzlement. The formal complaint was made by L. P. Wright, the cashler for Newcombe & Co., who said that Kegeler had stolen 872. The prisoner was held for trial in default of $500 ball. Kegeler entered the employ of Newcombe & Co. about six months aco at a salary of $7 a week, and finding that sum insufficient for expenses he helped himself to such money as came in his way. In conversation he said: "I could not live on the salary I received, and so took a little from time to time, intending to return it. I experted to get the money from a friend in Newark." He also wrote the following letter: "I acknowledge to-day that I misused Mr. Newcombe's confidence in the worst degree by taking $74.72 from him which did not belong to me. I regret it very deeply and hope to be able some day to repay it to him."

six lectures will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Huntington, rector of Grace Church, New-York, the subject being "The Protestant Episcopal Church in relation to the American Character." On the five following Sunday evenings there will be addresses by eminent divines on "Christian Socialism." "Civil Service Reform in Relation to Righteousness," and other topics of the time. These lectures indicate an intellectual form of religious activity in Brooklyn. The remarkable mission or revival services opening on the same day in St. Luke's Church under the direction of the Rev. W. Hay Altkin, an English clerzyman, will also attract much attention in the same religious communion.

STERLING AND HIS COMPETITORS.

THE CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION FOR WEIGHER-HOW STERLING LOOKED AND ACTED. Forty-five men, varying in age from twentytwo to about fifty, sat at little school desks in room No. 107 of the Pest Office building yesterday, competing in a written examination for the office of weigher in the New-York Custom House under the Civil Service law. The office to be filled is that made vacant by the removal of George H. Sterling. The examination by order of the United States Civil Service Commission was an open one, though reformers protest against this order, saying that as a matter of precedent as well as of reform in theory it should have been open only to weighers' foremen and assistant weighers. When the forty-five applicants had been distributed around the room and furnished with pens and ink Commissioner Thoman made a little speech. He said that this examination had excited a great deal of attention from the public, and of not less than twenty lines in the space below, addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, giving your views of the authority, duty and responsibility of a collector of customs in the United States.

The examination began at 9:30 a. in., and from then till 4 p. in., these examination sheets were doled out one by one. All the applicants were numbered and were ordered to write, not their names, but their numbers, on the papers. The applicants in the main were an intelligent-looking body of men. Sterling, the ex-Alderman, ex-rumshop-keeper, ex-dox-fighter and ex-weigher, was on hand. He has a great thick neck, heavy jaws covered with a short dark-red heard, a wide menth and big lips, and icheek-bones unusually prominent. His head grows smaller as the recedes either way from these check-bones until it rounds into a bullet-sort of to that droops into a low brow. His eyes are small, and the brows hang over them in a sullen way. They look sharp, however, and indicate a certain degree of wit. His form is burly and weil-kuit. His face wore a stolid expression, from which it was difficult to tell what he thought of the affair.

One of the applicants had hair long and curly that fell about his shoulders. He would glare savagely at a question, plunge his long fingers into his hair and scribble away as if it were a matter of life or death. A student of physiognomy would have been much entertained in examining the applicants. Two or three looked "queer"; several were young fellows evidently in want of a job, but in the main they were intelligent men. Chairman Comstock said that the result of the examination would be known in about ten days.

A CONFEDERATE BILL FOR THE GRANT FUND.

A few weeks ago the Grant Monument Association received a Confederate bank note of the denomination of $50 from a resident of Augusta, 6a. The person sending the note refused to give his name, but from the manner in which it was sent there was an evident minimition to east a star upon the Grant Monument Association and to belittle the services rendered to the country by General Grant. As zoon as the fact was published that such a contribution had been made offers were received by Professor Greener to give various sums for the Confederate note. The amounts offered continued to increase unit, finally, John Palman, of No. 46 Whitest. New-York, offered to take the note at its face value and turn over the money to the Grant Monument Find. This proposition was accepted and the 550 was sent to the committee yesterday, thus making the first time that a note of the Confederacy was ever exchanged for its face value. The following was sent to Messrs, John Paliman & Co. yesterday:

This is to certify that the enclosed note for fifty dollars. A CONFEDERATE BILL FOR THE GRANT FUND. State to those who have nied applications during the inst year.

ENTRIES AT JEROME PARK.
The programme for to-day's racing at Je The programme for to-day's racing at Jereme Park is not remarkably attractive. The fields are of poor quality and they are made up of borses that race against each other again and again, day after day, with stekening repetition. Then three of the six races are only three-quarters of a mile. In scrambles of this kind too much depends upon the start, which is so often had, that less than fifty per cent of these races are won by the best horses in them. The track will, of course, be deep in mud, and the time made of necessity slow.

The first race is an extra one, a handleap at 2, of a mile. Only three are in it, and two of those belong to one stable. Mr. Withers could win with either Stone-back or Buckstone. He will probably withdraw Euckstone, however, as he is also entered for the second race, and win with stonebuck.

The second race is a 1 1-16 miles handleap, with ten cutries. Error is of last just now that she ought to win and Euckstone should get second piace.

Eight are named to start in the two-year-old handleap, a of a mile. Luin ought to win, with Bon Soir second, noich Mr. Withers's filly Anarely, from the way she ran on Thursday, is dangerous, and Bordelaise when in the himore can run a bit.

The fourth race, 15-16 miles handleap, should be the races of the day. There is such a deplorable lack of quality among the contestants, however, that it is shorn of much of its interest. Tolo, with only one hundred pounds on her back, ought to win, and Urrost should get the place.

PAUL POTTER, THE JOCKEY, NO BETTER. Three of the four jockeys who were on the horses that fell in the first race at Jerome Park on Thursday were walking about yesterday little the worse for their tumbles. With Paul Potter, the Dwjer Brothers promising lightweight, it was different. He was lying unconscious on a cot in a house near the race-course. Occasionally he opened his eyes, but did not seem to recognize any of his friends who were attending him. The Dwyers have secured the best medical assistance and Frank McCabe, their trainer, is almost constantly at the bedside. The physicians have only slight hopes of the boy's recovery. What the injuries may be further than that the upper jaw is broken on the right side and the lower one on the left side is not known, for it is not deemed best to examine further for a day or two. The greatest fear is that the brain has been injured. Three of the four jockeys who were on the pured.

Potter has been in the employ of the Dwyers for nearly three years, though he never had a mount in a race until about a year ago. He is about sixteen years old and could ride at eighty-four pounds. Maggie J., the horse that he was riding, was the first to go down, so he was at the bottom of the heap.

WILL THE ATALANTA AND STILETTO RACE! After a special meeting of the American Yacht Clab on Tuesday evening, when the Regatta Committee was sustained in the award of the Commodore's Cup to the Atalanta, a match was made by the owners for a race between the yachts Atalanta and Stiletto early next season. A $500 cup to be furnished by the owners of the rival yachts was to be the championship emblem. A formal challenge, dated on the next day, was printed yesterday, and in it Mr. Herreshoff repeated his verbal agreement made with Mr. Gould. The course proposed was from Fort Adams, Newport, to the buoy of Sand's Point, at the head of Long Island Sound, a distance of about 150 miles.

Jay Gould said vesterday that he had received the letter of Mr. Herreshoff, but that he had made no reply to it. "I don't know that I ought to make a roply," he said, "when Mr. Herreshoff has not yet answered my inst challenge. It is not impossible that he is seeking notoriety in proposing a race with the Atalanta." Mr. Connor, the confidential broker of Mr. Gould, said ofterward that it was a mistake, that the match had been agreed to at the recent meeting. After a special meeting of the American

A MEETING OF FEMALE GRADUATES.

The meeting of the Association of Collegiate Alamne, which is to be held at the Packer Institute, Brooklyn, to-day, promises to be one of great interest. Large delegations are expected from Boston, Baltimore and Washington, while more remote parts of the country will be represented. The association was organized in Boston in 1882 with the object of furnishing a bond of union in 1882 with the object of furnishing a bond of union among college-trained women and of carrying on pracamong college-trained women and of carrying on practical educational work. At present its membership includes Columbia College, Cornell University, Vassar College, the University of Michigan, Wisconsin University, Botton University, Smith College, Weinesley College, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Wesleyan University, Syracuse University, Kansas University and Northwestern University. The president is Miss Alice E. Freeman, president of Weilestey College, The National character of the association is attested by the fact that its 350 members represent thirty States and Territories. Of these, again, nearly one-fourth are nairried women inventy-four are members of college faculties, and a large number are teachers. Several have pursued extended post-graduate studies in Europe, while others have begun or completed professional studies. The most recent work of the association has been an extended investigation of the health of graduates from women's colleges. The data secured by the Association from 705 alumans were collated by the Massachusetts Bureau of Statistice of Labor, and the results published in a pamphlet of cirkly purse.

The association is steadily gaining in influence. A branch has been organized in Washington, and others will doubtless be formed. The privileges of membership are enjoyed not only by such as are able to attend the quarterly meetings, but by those at a distance, as detailed printed reports and circulars are sent out frequently. tical educational work.
